

TEACHERS FILING OATHS OF LOYALTY

Swearing In Under Lusk Act
Will Be Done in Individual Districts.

Special Despatch to This New York Herald
New York Herald Bureau,
Albany, July 30.

Several hundred public school teachers anxious to comply with the requirements of the new Lusk act, which demands that every public school teacher must take an oath of loyalty, have already filed statements with the State Education Department.

Swearing in of all school teachers by the State Board of Regents will be directed by Avery W. Skinner of the State Education Department, and will be performed in the individual school districts. The various superintendents of schools will be asked for up to date lists of their teaching staffs. Then the number of blanks required will be sent to each locality, to be signed by the teachers and sworn to before a notary public. They are then to be returned to Albany, where they will be placed on file. There are about 54,000 teachers in the State, of whom about 23,000 are employed in New York city.

No prescribed course has been set, but it will be recommended that each school will be turned into a separate unit for the purposes of carrying out the provisions of the Lusk act, so that each school principal will supervise the swearing in of the teachers under his charge. In case any teacher should decline to sign the matter will be brought to the attention of the Department of Education and an investigation made. Some moral persuasion will probably be used before a teacher in these circumstances is boosted out of a job. No effort will be made to get into touch with the teachers individually. The task would, in the first place, be too arduous, and in the second there would be no satisfactory way of checking up.

Preparations also are being made by the Education Department for enforcing the Lusk act, providing that all private schools and institutions of learning not conducted by any recognized religious sect or organization must file data with the department showing that their courses do not include instruction in subjects seditious to organized government or to the Government of the State or the United States. The legal division of the Education Department is asked to rule whether the law is to apply to all kinds of institutions of learning or solely to those giving academic instruction.

SPIRIT OF ANARCHIST SEEN IN BOOTLEGGER

All Are Criminals, Says Commissioner Haynes.

WASHINGTON GROVE, Md., July 30.—Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, speaking here to-day at the Washington Grove Summer Assembly, declared "he is a shortsighted American who fails to see in the bootlegger of to-day both the spirit of the anarchist and the Bolshevik."

"The bootlegger, whether he be in the highest or the lowest walks of life," the Prohibition Commissioner asserted, "is in the last analysis a law violator, and, stripped of his social prestige and political influence, he is a criminal, giving assistance and encouragement to those forces of profiteering criminality whose business it has been to prostitute statesmanship and debauch citizenship, which have murdered more men in the discharge of their duties in proportion to the number employed in the enforcement of law than fell on the battlefields of France in defence of our flag."

STILL SEIZURE STORY IS IGNORED BY COURT

Cop's Failure to Have Search Warrant Aids Woman.

A tale of a bathtub full of soaking prunes, a twenty gallon still and eight barrels of mash, told by detectives who invaded the home of Mrs. Anna Kierman, at 553 East 34th street, was waved aside by Magistrate Douras in Morristown Court yesterday, when he learned that the detectives acted without a search warrant.

Detectives Sterner and Colby, who made the arrest, told the court they were informed several days ago that Mrs. Kierman was trafficking in liquor. Friday they went to her apartment and offered to buy a quart of whiskey. Mrs. Kierman asked them in, they said, and promised to have a quart ready for them in a few minutes.

When she led them into the kitchen, they charged, they observed a large still. Poking into the bathroom they found the tub filled with floating prunes. The mash was found in another part of the house. They seized all these and arrested Mrs. Kierman. The detectives said she had been making "eight year old bottled in bond whiskey" in fifteen minutes, and that the still they found was being used to run off their quart.

THREE HELD IN SILK THEFT.

The three men charged with attempting the theft of a truck loaded with $40,000 in silks belonging to the Silk Finishing Company of America in a holdup Friday at Willis avenue and 142d street, The Bronx, were held yesterday in Morristown court in $50,000 bail each for examination to-morrow. They are Ernest Regensburg, 442 West 40th street; Benedict Regensburg, 329 West Thirty-fourth street, and Edward Murray, 115 Hotel No. 3, Seventh avenue and thirty-seventh street.

GETS BACK 3 CASES WHISKEY, LOSES SEVEN

Brewster Man Profits None by Court Order.

Immediately after returning three cases of liquor by direction of the Supreme Court to J. A. Comesky of Brewster yesterday State troopers, under Capt. John A. Warner, raided his place again on a new warrant and came away with seven cases.

Because of a flaw in the seizure warrant, Justice Joseph Morchauser ordered three cases taken from Comesky a few days ago returned. As soon as Sergeant Francis McGarvey took it back to Comesky's place Lieut. E. C. Roberts appeared there with a new seizure warrant and the three cases were grabbed again. Four more cases Comesky had obtained also were seized.

Justice Morchauser also decided the ownership of liquor seized in three other raids, making altogether two truckloads. Six barrels of wine, taken from Augustin Pasquale of Mount Kisco, were ordered forfeited. Wine and whiskey taken from Anthony Stimole of Croton Falls were confiscated.

A few bottles of liquor were recently taken from the hotel run by Mrs. Mary Goery in Carmel. Justice Morchauser ordered the contest for the possession of the liquor adjourned until the fall term of court in Putnam county.

SACRAMENTAL WINES SEIZED; TWO ARRESTS

Cops Not Satisfied With U. S. Permits Shown to Them.

Polloemen Valentine and Smith early yesterday seized twelve barrels of sacramental wines which were aboard a truck for shipment to Rabbi Herowitz at Hartford, Conn. The wines were being shipped by Garrett & Co., whose offices are in one of the Bush Terminal buildings in Brooklyn. The police were not satisfied with the Federal permits which they were shown.

Stephen Curtis, chauffeur, 465 Fifty-first street, Brooklyn, and John Cahill, his helper, 298 Carroll street, Brooklyn, were arrested and charged with illegal possession and transportation of liquor. They were held by Magistrate Silberman in Tombs Court in $500 bail each for examination Monday.

LAWYER FOR OUSTING OF DRY LEGISLATORS

Do It or You Deserve Drought, Says J. S. Wise.

If the people of New Jersey and New York fail to oust the Legislators who imposed the Van Ness and the Mullan-Gage laws upon them, they deserve no better than they get, is an opinion expressed by John S. Wise, Jr., New York lawyer, in a letter to William J. Fish, secretary of the New Jersey division of the association against the prohibition amendment. Mr. Wise in his letter expressed his sincere regret at being unable to join the New Jersey division, since he is a resident of New York, but he stated he had joined the national parent body.

His letter contains many positive statements in protest against the Volstead act as well as the State enforcement statutes. "For these sentiments," he wrote, "I suppose the centralists will term me an anarchist. Be that as it may, I am still obstinate enough to believe I am a constitutionalist."

August Sale of Gunther Furs

This sale presents an unusual opportunity for early purchasers to secure the new Fall
Models at great concessions.

To again restore the fur business to a sound basis the fur industry accepted, far in advance of many other lines, severe losses, which indicates that fur deflation has reached bottom.

Furthermore—the condition of the raw skin market to-day, which is the barometer of the fur business, shows a tendency toward higher prices.

We are offering marked reductions from our present price levels; therefore, these facts indicate that our August Sale Prices are lower than will prevail during the coming season.
